ANCESTRY TRAITS AND PERKS

Spot The Tell

Whenever you make a test to read a person and obtain a tier 3 outcome, you notice several tells that give away their true feelings. Any test you make to read that person in the future gains an edge.

Tough But Withered

When your Stamina reaches the negative of your winded value, you become inert instead of dying. You fall prone and can't stand. You continue to observe your surroundings, but you can't speak, take main actions, maneuvers, move actions, or triggered actions. While inert this way, if you take any fire damage, your body is destroyed and you die. Otherwise, after 12 hours, you regain Stamina equal to 5.

Power Roll + 2

≤11 You take corruption damage equal to 6.

12-16 The spirit of anyone you know of who has died speaks to you, provided they are on the same world as you. You learn how they died and can ask them one question, which they can answer truthfully or untruthfully. The spirit knows everything they knew in life, and is aware of events that took place in their immediate surroundings since their death.

17+ As tier 2, but you can ask 3 questions.

Effect: If any sapient creatures have died nearby within the last 24 hours, you have a double bane on the power roll for this ability if any of those creatures were hostile to you, or a double edge if any of them were friendly to you. When you use this ability, you can't do so again until you earn 1 or more Victories.

OTHER FEATURES & REFERENCE

CIRCLE OF BLIGHT

Soulsense

While you have line of effect to a creature with a soul, you can perceive a trail of where the creature has been in the last number of minutes equal to 5 × your level.

When you finish a respite, you can always perceive the soul trails of each creature that took the respite with you until your next respite.

- Summon Choice: Signature Minion
- Summon Choice: 3-Essence Minion

SUMMONER

Minions

The creatures you control are called minions. You can summon and maintain up to a maximum of 8 minions. Your minions are considered allies at your level.

You can manage up to two squads of minions. Newly summoned minions can either be organized into a new squad or be distributed into other squads under your control. A squad can't contain more than eight minions, and all minions in the squad must have the same name.

The maximum distance that you can summon minions and use specific conjuring abilities is called your Summoner's Range. Your Summoner's Range is equal to 5 + your Reason score. You must have line of effect to summon and give commands to minions within your Summoner's Range. Commanding a minion to take a main action or a maneuver while hidden reveals you.

You also have special minions at your disposal called signature minions, low-cost creatures that you've become accustomed to summoning often.

- Heroic Resource: Essence

Whenever you use a heroic ability or call forth a minion that costs essence, you can willingly sacrifice one or more of your minions within your Summoner's Range to reduce the cost by 1. You can't kill minions this way if they used a main action or maneuver during the turn. You can sacrifice more minions than you would reduce the cost by.

Signature Ability
Main Action

Effect: A twisted target can't take advantage of edges or search for hidden creatures until the condition ends.

★ Soulsight

Each creature adjacent to the bengrul can't be hidden from them.

FALLING

When a creature falls 2 or more squares and lands on the ground, they take 2 damage for each square they fall (to a maximum of 50 damage) and land prone. A creature who falls can reduce the effective height of the fall by a number of squares equal to their Agility score (to a minimum of 0). Falling into liquid that is 1 square or more deep reduces the effective height of a fall by 4 squares (to a minimum of 0).

Falling is not forced movement, but being force moved downward is considered falling. Movement from falling doesn't provoke opportunity attacks.

FALLING ONTO ANOTHER CREATURE

A creature who falls and lands on another creature causes that creature to take the same damage from the fall. The falling creature then lands prone in the nearest unoccupied space of their choice. If the falling creature's size is greater than the Might score of the creature they land on, that creature is knocked prone.

★ Splash Strike

The spittlich's ranged free strikes have a distance of 10 and deal 2 poison damage to an enemy adjacent to the target. Creatures that take poison damage from this spittlich can't shift until the start of the spittlich's next turn.

★ Soulsight

Each creature adjacent to the spittlich can't be hidden from them.

★ Extended Barbed Strike

The ensnarer's melee free strikes have a distance of 3 and inflict pull 1. The pull distance increases by 1 for each additional ensnarer striking the same target. Choose the ensnarer that the target is being pulled to before applying forced movement.

★ Soulsight

Each creature adjacent to the ensnarer can't be hidden from them.

COVER

When you have line of effect to a creature or object but that target has at least half their form blocked by a solid object such as a tree, wall, or overturned table, the target has cover. You take a bane on damage-dealing abilities used against creatures or objects that have cover from you.

DURING THE MOVE

Certain ability effects allow you to move and affect other creatures or objects during that move, such as the shadow's One Hundred Throats ability. For such abilities, the move begins in the space you first leave when you start the move and ends in the last space you move into.

CLIMBING / SWIMMING

A creature who has “climb” in their speed entry, or who gains the temporary ability to automatically climb, can climb across vertical and horizontal surfaces at full speed. Likewise, a creature who has “swim” in their speed entry, or who gains the temporary ability to automatically swim, can swim in liquid at full speed.

Creatures without those types of movement can still climb or swim when a rule allows them to move, but each square of climbing or swimming costs 2 squares of movement. If a surface is difficult to climb (for instance, a sheer cliff or ice-covered wall) or a liquid is hard to swim through (a raging river or whirlpool), the Director can call for a Might test. On a failure, a creature can't climb or swim but wastes no movement in the attempt. The Director can also impose other consequences to failure, such as being caught in the spinning current of a whirlpool.

Climbing other Creatures: You can attempt to climb a creature whose size is greater than yours. If the creature is willing, you can climb them without any trouble. If the creature is unwilling, you make the following test:

Power Roll + Might or Agility:

Roll	Effect
≤11	You fail to climb the creature, and they can make a free strike against you.
12-16	You fail to climb the creature.
17+	You climb the creature.

While you climb or ride a creature, you gain an edge to melee abilities used against them. The creature can use a maneuver to attempt to knock you off, forcing you to make the following test:

Power Roll + Might or Agility:

Roll	Effect
≤11	You fall off the creature into an unoccupied adjacent space of your choice, taking falling damage and landing prone as usual.
12-16	You slide down the creature into an unoccupied adjacent space of your choice and don't land prone.
17+	You continue to hold on to the creature.

If you are knocked prone while climbing or riding a creature, you fall and land prone in an adjacent space of your choice, taking damage as usual from the fall.

DIFFICULT TERRAIN

Areas of thick underbrush, rubble, spiderwebs, or other obstacles to movement create difficult terrain. It costs 1 additional square of movement to enter a square of difficult terrain.

SLAMMING INTO CREATURES

When you force move a creature into another creature, the movement ends and both creatures take 1 damage for each square remaining in the first creature's forced movement. You can also force move an object into a creature. The object's movement ends, and the creature takes 1 damage for each square remaining in the object's forced movement.

It's possible to move a creature or object of a larger size into several creatures of a smaller size at the same time. When this happens, the larger creature in the collision takes damage only once, not once for each smaller creature they slam into.

If a creature is killed by damage from an ability or effect that also force moves them, a second creature they are slammed into still takes damage unless the Director deems otherwise.

You can force move another creature into yourself with a pull or a slide.

MANEUVERS

Any creature can take the following maneuvers, in addition to those listed in their stats:

- Aid Attack: Choose an adjacent enemy. The next ability power roll an ally makes against them before the start of your next turn has an edge.
- Catch Breath: Spend a Recovery.
- Claw Dirt: You use the Claw Dirt ability.
- Escape Grab: You use the Escape Grab ability while grabbed.
- Grab: You use the Grab ability.
- Hide: You become hidden from creatures who aren't observing you while you have cover or concealment from them.
- Knockback: You use the Knockback ability.
- Make or Assist a Test: Making or assisting a test is a maneuver in combat.
- Search for Hidden Creatures: Attempt to locate creatures hidden from you.
- Stand Up: You stand up from prone, ending that condition. Alternatively, you can use this maneuver to make an adjacent prone creature stand up.
- Use Consumable: Unless otherwise noted in its description, you can use this maneuver to activate a consumable treasure. A creature can use this maneuver to administer a consumable treasure that benefits the user either to therself or a willing adjacent creature.

FLANKING

When you and one or more allies are adjacent to the same enemy and on opposite sides of the enemy, you are flanking that enemy. While flanking an enemy, you gain an edge on melee strikes against them.

If you're unsure whether your hero and an ally are flanking a foe, imagine a line extending from the center of your space to the center of your ally's space. If that line passes through opposite sides or corners of the enemy's space, then you and your ally are flanking the enemy.

You must have line of effect to the enemy and be able to take triggered actions to gain or grant the flanking benefit.

INVISIBLE CREATURES

Invisible creatures always have concealment from other creatures. If an invisible creature isn't hidden, they can still be targeted by abilities. The test made to find a hidden creature who is invisible takes a bane.

HIDING

To hide from a creature, you must have cover or concealment from that creature (see Chapter 10: Combat), who can't observe you attempting to hide. A creature is observing you if they're aware of your specific location before you attempt to hide. This means they can pinpoint you with their senses and point a finger (or paw or tentacle) at you as if to shout, "There they are!" If you duck behind a barrel to hide from a foe, your attempt to hide has a chance of succeeding only if your foe doesn't notice you doing so. If you're being chased by a hungry dragon, you can hide only if you first move to a location where the dragon can't observe you—for instance, by turning a sharp corner into a tunnel full of giant stalagmites before the dragon does. You then make your hide attempt.

When you use the Hide maneuver to hide during combat while you have cover or concealment from a creature who isn't observing you, you are automatically hidden from them unless the Director deems otherwise. If you hide outside of combat, the Director might ask you to make a test using the Hide skill to determine how well hidden you are.

While you are hidden from another creature, the creature can't target you with abilities that don't have the Area keyword. This benefit ends as soon as you are no longer hidden from that creature.

Additionally, while you are hidden from another creature, you gain an edge on ability rolls made against that creature. This benefit lasts until the end of the turn in which you are no longer hidden. This means you can be hidden from another creature at the start of your turn, move out of cover or concealment toward them and use an ability against them, and still gain an edge on ability rolls made against the creature as long as you use the ability before the end of that turn.

You are no longer hidden from a creature if you don't have cover or concealment from them. If you use an ability, interact with an enemy, move without sneaking, or otherwise make noise or reveal yourself while hidden, you are no longer hidden once the activity that reveals you resolves. For instance, if you are hidden and then make a strike, you resolve the strike first, then are no longer hidden.

Searching for Hidden Creatures You can search for creatures who are hidden from you as long as those creatures are within 10 squares and you have line of effect to them. To do so, you use a maneuver to make an Intuition test using the Search skill, and any hidden creatures within 10 squares of you each make an opposed Agility test using the Hide skill (see Opposed Power Rolls earlier in this chapter). At the Director's discretion, different characteristics and skills can be used in this opposed test. For example, your foe might make a Presence test using the Handle Animals skill to hide among a flock of sheep without disturbing them, or you could make a Reason test using the Eavesdrop skill to pick out the breathing of a creature hidden in the dark.

If the total of your test is higher than that of a hidden creature, they are no longer hidden from you. Otherwise, they remain hidden from you. As part of the maneuver used to search for hidden creatures, you can point out any creatures you notice to allies within 10 squares of you, making those creatures no longer hidden from those allies.

If a creature is hidden from your allies but not from you, you can use a maneuver without making a test to point that creature out to your allies.

SHIFTING

Shifting is a careful form of movement that allows a creature to move safely past dangerous foes. Certain abilities, features, and other rules allow you to shift a specific number of squares, sometimes up to your speed. Whenever you shift, creatures can't make opportunity attacks against you triggered by that movement.

You can't shift into or while within difficult terrain or damaging terrain. If a rule allows you to shift, you can choose to instead move up to the number of squares you would have shifted (for example, to get out of difficult terrain). However, you can't combine moving and shifting within that movement.

MOVEMENT

All squares adjacent to your character cost 1 movement to move into. No, there's no Pythagorean theorem on the grid. It's a game, don't overthink it.

Your hero can move freely through an ally's space. You can move through an enemy's space, but that space is difficult terrain. You can't stop moving in any other creature's space, including to make a strike or use a main action or maneuver while in that space and then continuing your move, unless that creature's size is two or more sizes greater or smaller than your own.

At the Director's discretion, you can be forced into the same space as another creature whose size is within 1 of yours, such as by falling down a narrow shaft with such a creature already at the bottom. When you are squeezed into the same space as another creature whose size is within 1 of yours, your ability rolls and tests take a bane.

Can't Exceed Speed: A single move or other effect can never allow a creature to move more squares than their speed, unless the effect states otherwise. For example, a creature with speed 5 might have that speed reduced to 2 by the slowed condition (see Conditions in Chapter 5: Classes). If an ally then targets them with an effect that allows them to move up to 3 squares, the creature can move only 2 squares because that's their current speed.

Can't Cut Corners: A creature can't move diagonally when doing so would involve passing through the corner of a wall or some other object that completely fills the corner between the creature's space and the space they are moving to. This rule applies only to moving past objects, not moving past other creatures.

SLAMMING INTO OBJECTS

When a creature force moves a target into a stationary object that is the target's size or larger and the object doesn't break (see below), the movement ends and the target takes 2 damage plus 1 damage for each square remaining in their forced movement.

If you force move a creature downward into an object that doesn't break (including the ground), they also take falling damage as if they had fallen the distance force moved and their Agility score was 0.

Hurling through objects: When you move a creature into a mundane object, the object can break depending on how many squares of forced movement remain. The cost of being slammed into an object is tied to the damage a target takes for being hurled through it:

- It costs 1 remaining square of forced movement to destroy 1 square of glass. The creature moved takes 3 damage.
- It costs 3 remaining squares of forced movement to destroy 1 square of wood. The creature moved takes 5 damage.
- It costs 6 remaining squares of forced movement to destroy 1 square of stone. The creature moved takes 8 damage.
- It costs 9 remaining squares of forced movement to destroy 1 square of metal. The creature moved takes 11 damage.

If any forced movement remains after the object is destroyed, you can continue to move the creature who destroyed the object.

DYING AND DEATH

When your Stamina is 0 or lower, you are dying. While dying, you can't take the Catch Breath maneuver in combat, and you are bleeding, and this condition can't be removed in any way until you are no longer dying. While you are dying, your allies can help you spend Recoveries in combat, and you can spend Recoveries out of combat as usual.

While your Stamina is lower than 0, if it reaches the negative of your winded value, you die. When you die, you can't be brought back to life without the use of a special powerful item such as a Scroll of Resurrection.

JUMPING

Whenever an effect allows you to move (including using the Advance move action), you can automatically long jump a number of squares up to your Might or Agility score (your choice; minimum 1 square) as part of that movement. The height of your jump is automatically 1 square as part of that movement.

If you want to jump even longer or higher than your baseline jump allows, make a Might or Agility test:

Power Roll + Might or Agility:

Roll	Effect
≤11	You don't jump any farther than your baseline jump allows.
12-16	You jump 1 square longer and higher than your baseline jump allows.
17+	You jump 2 squares longer and higher than your baseline jump allows.

You can't jump farther or higher than the distance of the effect that allows you to move. You can't jump out of difficult terrain or damaging terrain.

MAIN ACTIONS

Any creature can take the following main actions, in addition to those listed in their stats:

- Charge: Move up to your speed in a straight line without shifting, and can then make a melee free strike or use an ability with the Charge keyword against a creature when you end your move.
- Defend: All ability power rolls made against you have a double bane until the start of your next turn. You gain no benefit from this action while another creature is taunted by you.
- Free Strike: You make a free strike.
- Heal: Choose an adjacent creature who can spend a Recovery or make a saving throw.
- Trade: You can convert your main action into a maneuver or move action, allowing you to take two maneuvers or move actions on your turn.

EDGES AND BANES

Edge: If you have a situational advantage (edge) on a power roll, the roll gains +2.

Double Edge: If you have two or more edges, the roll is one tier higher instead.

Bane: If you have a situational disadvantage (bane) on a power roll, the roll gains -2.

Double Bane: If you have two or more banes, the roll is one tier lower instead.

- If you have an edge and a bane or a double edge and a double bane, the roll is made normally without any edges or banes.
- If you have a double edge and a bane, the roll has one edge.
- If you have a double bane and an edge, the roll has one bane.

CRITICAL HIT

Whenever you make an ability roll as a main action and the roll is a natural 19 or natural 20 — a total of 19 or 20 before adding your characteristic score or other modifiers — you score a critical hit. A critical hit allows you to immediately take an additional main action after resolving the power roll, whether or not it's your turn and even if you are dazed (see Conditions below).

You can't score a critical hit with an ability roll made as a maneuver or any other action type, but you can score a critical hit with a main action you use off your turn. For example, an opportunity attack made as a triggered action or a signature ability used as a free triggered action with the assistance of the tactician's Strike Now ability can be critical hits.

ROLL VS MULTIPLE CREATURES

When an ability has multiple targets (whether a strike with more than one target or an area affect), you make one power roll and apply the total to all targets. If you have edges or banes (see Chapter 1: The Basics) against some but not all of your targets, you might apply a different tier outcome to individual targets.

For example, if you target three creatures with a strike ability and the power roll totals 11, each of the targets should be affected by the tier 1 outcome of the ability. However, if you gain an edge on strikes against one of the targets to add 2 to the power roll, your total against that target is 13, and they are affected by the tier 2 outcome of the ability.

SNEAKING

While you are hidden from another creature and not in combat, you can attempt to sneak—avoiding the senses of other creatures as you move around them in the open—to remain hidden. While sneaking, your speed is halved. To sneak, you make an Agility test using the Sneak skill with a difficulty set by the Director. If you succeed, you remain hidden during your movement. This test can use another characteristic at the Director's discretion, such as using Presence to blend in with a crowd on a packed city street.

HIGH GROUND

Whenever a creature uses an ability to target a creature or object while standing on the ground and occupying a space that is fully above the target's space, they gain an edge on the power roll against that target. To be fully above a target, the bottom of a creature's space must be higher than or bordering on the top of the target's space.

A creature can gain this benefit while climbing only if they have "climb" in their speed entry or can automatically climb at full speed while moving.

CONCEALMENT

Darkness, fog, invisibility magic, and any other effect that fully obscures a creature or object but doesn't protect their physical form grants that creature or object concealment. Even if you have line of effect to such a target, a creature or object has concealment from you if you can't see or otherwise observe them. You can target a creature or object with concealment using a strike, provided they aren't hidden. However, strikes against such targets take a bane.

MOVE ACTIONS

Any creature can take the following move actions:

- Advance: Move a number of squares up to your speed. You can break up this movement with your maneuver and action however you wish.
- Disengage: Shift 1 square.
- Ride: Cause a mount you are riding to take the Advance move action. A mount can only benefit from this once per round.

OPPORTUNITY ATTACK

Whenever a creature has an enemy adjacent to them and the enemy willingly moves to a space that isn't adjacent to the creature without shifting, the creature can take advantage of that movement to quickly make a melee free strike against the enemy as a free triggered action. This is called an opportunity attack.

If a creature has a bane or double bane on the power roll against the enemy, they can't make an opportunity attack.
